Note: This link should not be shared with others; it is unique to you.

Passcode: (b) (6)

Description: EPA Administrator Michael Regan launches this event, "Stories of Culture & Adaptation," with a special message recognizing the 10th Anniversary of the Global Change Fellows program. Regan's message will be followed by a Gullah/Geechee greeting from Chieftess Queen Quet, and then a panel discussion focused on how climate change has impacted marginalized communities. The program's diverse group of panelists includes perspectives from Native American community members, the unique Gullah/Geechee culture, natural resources managers, and youth activists. The panel will engage in a discussion on cultural challenges that underrepresented communities are facing in the wake of climate change, alongside the personal power of story.
